

Superintendent

---

Description

Experience leader in the specialized field of marine coatings application and marine preservation. Proficient in one or more disciplines of marine preservation.

Duties and Responsibilities

- Understands and implements the required quality standards per the scope of the work package
- Responsible for the day to day production of a coatings project
- Identifies resources needed and assigns personnel, equipment and material
- Manages resource delivery schedules
- Manages shift scheduling
- Works with Project Manager to manage schedule
- Schedules subcontractors
- Maintains daily production logs
- Possesses a thorough understanding of marine coatings application, in particular, US Navy and US Navy preservation
-

Qualifications

- Minimum of 8 years of experience in shipyard industry with at least 3 years as a Foreman
- Experience in dry docks and vessel inspections
- Computer skills in Microsoft Office Suites
- Detail oriented
- Must be a US citizen
- Must be able to access government installations
- Must be able to walk at least 2 miles daily, crawl in tight spaces, and climb ladders and stairs without restriction
- Must be able to lift 50 pounds above head
- Must pass an occupational physical, drug screen and respirator medical authorization test
- Must be able to work any assigned shift and ability to work assigned overtime
- OSHA 10 - Maritime, willingness to obtain through company-paid training